Amador Board asks priority for Las Positas crossing

DUBLIN - Superintendent Bruce Newlin Tuesday night was instructed to draft a resolution to be reviewed by the Amador Valley Joint High School District board concerning high priority status for a West Las Positas overcrossing.

The board has been concerned about traffic flow from east of Highway 680 to west of the freeway. The concern became a more urgent matter when trustees learned of students using the drainage canal to get to and from Foothill High School. They were also told that some students were even hopping the fences and running across the highway. Several of the latter had been picked up by California Highway Patrol units and brought to the school.

The school board also received letters asking them to meet with the city in an attempt to make the West Las Positas overcrossing the prime link between east and west.

The resolution that Newlin will draft requests the city to consider raising the priority of such an overcrossing. A like resolution will be forwarded to the appropriate state body.

Such an overcrossing would be in some conflict with one proposed for Stoneridge.

On a second matter of major concern, trustees formed a committee of students, teachers, parents and administrators to review Sen. Arlen Gregorio's bill (SB171) concerning setting up special smoking areas on high school campuses.

The committee is composed of two student representatives from each Amador district school, parents and teachers from each school, one administrator from each and four parents who specifically voiced concern on the subject.

Sen. Gregorio's bill gives the school board of each district the option nf setting up one smoking area on each campus. The bill does not say such an area MUST be setup.

Newlin was also authorized to make application for $120,000 to the Alameda County Training and Employment Board to provide training, education, and non-traditional employment for unemployed, underemployed and economically disadvantaged residents of the ACTEB planning area.

Young men and women between the ages of 16 and 20 who are in any of the above categories would be eligible for a work experience program or vocational training.

In other business, the board officially awarded the contract for the safety lighting project on the Amador campus to Del Monte Electric Company, accepted rehabilitation work done on the Amador Valley High kitchen, approved final readings of policy concerning pupil records and employer-employee relations and authorized sale of a hot food unit at Dublin High. Changes in the Dublin High food services program make the unit no longer necessary.

Trustees also decided, following a presentation by the Pleasanton Junior Women's Club on "matching funds" for improvement of the Amador auditorium, to put all such requests into a common hopper and work towards establishing a priority list for all projects.

Bond building fund committees at Dublin, Foothill and Amador will send reps to a near future meeting to determine where the $88,354 in remaining funds will go.

The Junior Women, through spokeswoman Marcelline Mahern, told trustees that they had gained slightly more than $14,000 to put toward auditorium improvements but realized that at least an equal amount was needed to adequately complete some of the top priority jobs.

$2 sewer charge boost seems certain in Dublin

It appears almost certain that residents of the Valley Community Services District will pay $2 more each month on their sewer service bill in the coming fiscal year.

The $2 rise — which brings the total charge to $5.75 a month — was proposed by the staff in the preliminary budget and at a Tuesday night VCSD board of directors study session on the budget, three directors indicated they would support the increase.

Ann Jolley was the lone holdout(Dick Fahey was on vacation) and her plan was only to delay the imposing of the extra charge for one year.

However, Ron Hyde, Chuck Ladner and Lila Euler all supported the $2 jump and unless their minds are changed before or at the public hearing on the $1,043,509 budget May 20, the $5.75 rate will become effective on July 1.

Finance Director Newell Cummings explained the jump was caused by three factors:

- Inflation;
- The increased cost necessary to meet stricter environmental standards; and
- Underutilization of the sewage treatment plant.

The final factor is based on the fact that the district has enough personnel to run the plant at 5 million gallons per day (mgd) but at present it is running below 4 mgd.

Inflation has jumped fuel costs from $3,320 a month to $6,770 a month, according to Cummings, and costs of materials has skyrocketed as well. Chlorine, for example, cost $120 a ton at the beginning of last year, but now its price is $213 a ton.

Environmental standards require that outside technicians be brought in to check and monitor equipment at the plant. Previously such adjustments were handled by the staff at essentially no cost. Cummings estimates the cost of the consultants could run as high as $20,000 in 1975-76.

Industrial users — which comprise about 5 per cent of the district's customers — will absorb a proportional rise in sewer service charges, Cummings added.

Tuesday night's study session produced three other tentative changes in the budget, which will be officially accepted at the end of next Tuesday's public hearing and meeting, and both involved the fire department.

Fire Chief Phillip Phillips received approval for $290 to send two captains to a training school at Asilomar, $100 for shirts for volunteer firemen and $260 for the volunteer firemen's general fund.

Although no action could be taken officially Tuesday night, all four board members were in agreement on the three expenditures for the fire department and only three are necessary to place them in the budget next week.

Pleasanton trustees adopt plan to shift primary graders in fall

PLEASANTON - Two schools, Harvest Park and Walnut Grove, will be slightly overideal student capacities but three primary grades will be moved from Pleasanton Elementary under the terms of an option adopted in short order by Pleasanton School Board Trustees Wednesday night.

The option designated A-2, gained little reaction from a sparse citizen input audience at Harvest Park School.

According to Dr. David Carlisle, district director of research and development, the plan minimizes the student overflow problem to Vintage Hills School. It also moves Pleasanton Elementary towards elimination of all primary grades.

As adopted on a motion by Trustee Joe Schwab, Pleasanton would have 60 kindergarteners in 1975-76 with the remaining students being grades 6 to 8.

Two relocatables will have to be moved from Pleasanton Elementary to Valley View at a cost of $1,500 each as well as six to eight members of the teaching staff.

Three schools will be at ideal capacities, including Fairland, Valley View and Vintage Hills.

The option means that Harvest Park will have four fifth grade classes again in 1975-76. All would be walkers from Pleasanton Valley.

Principal Dale Hudson said it would be necessary to double up at some teaching stations, adding that the Valley Avenue School will be a little cramped as regards to student lockers and physical education facilities.

Harvest Park will have the largest attendance of any school in the district with an estimated 1,142 in September. Pleasanton Elementary would be second with 981 and Walnut Grove third at 902.

Alisal would take in kindergarten students from Amador Estates, Jensen Tract, Del Prado and Willow West. First to fifth graders from the same areas would also attend Alisal.

Seventh and eighth grade students who are currently enrolled at Harvest Park will be given the choice of continuing at that school or transferring to Pleasanton. The same option would hold true for Pleasanton seventh and eighth grade students.

Shadow Cliffs to stay closed

PLEASANTON — Shadow Cliffs Park will remain closed "until water (test) results are in and treatment is completed," East Bay Regional Park District representative Chris Nelson told The Times yesterday.

The park was closed Tuesday afternoon by Alameda County health officials following reports of "swimmers' itch."

Local doctors called the health department Monday reporting cases of severe rash to persons swimming in the lake. "Contaminated water" signs prohibiting swimming were posted shortly after noon, Tuesday, but officials claim swimmers ignored them and "harassed" park rangers who tried to enforce the ban.

By 4 p.m. health and park officials decided to close the entire park to preclude use of the water.

"Swimmers' itch" is caused by fecal contamination from migrating birds using the lake during the winter. A bacteria is released in bird feces and passed on to water snails who in turn digest it and spread it in the water.

Dr. Robert Lane of the California Health Department will take sample snails this morning for laboratory analysis.

"The causative agest is a trematoda bacteria," according to Ed Howell of the Alameda County Health Department, "especially the species trichobilharzia."

Test results "should be back Thursday night or Friday morning," Howell said, adding decontamination measures will start next week.

Howell has "no idea" how long the treatment will take since the high fish population will force officials to chlorinate the water gradually.

If it's not "swimmers' itch" caused by the bird feces and snails, additional analysis of the water will be necessary. Nelson said the entire park would be closed because it's "hard to control" swimmers using the facility.

"We'd have to open (the park) on a cool day, then close it on warm days when swimmers wanted to use the water. This way we'll wait until the water results are in and treatment is completed." The victims are all right while in the water, one woman told The Times, but begin scratching and screaming when they step out.

One of her sons scratched his skin raw trying to placate the itch. The mother fears her infant, unable to hold food, may have swallowed some of the bacteria laden water.

Bricklaying first event at city's Century House

PLEASANTON - The first official event at the refurbished Century House will not be a wedding reception or a fashion show but a "Command Performance" bricklaying party.

The bricklaying party is scheduled for June 7-8 and the public is cordially invited to come out and lay bricks with their city officials.

As explained by Assistant City Manager Al Campbell, there was sufficient money in the Century Park budget to prepare the patio areas for bricks and to purchase the bricks. However, there is not enough money to pay for placing the bricks.

Consequently, the bricklaying party was conceived. Citizens and officials alike will have the opportunity to have a hand in laying some of the 17,000 bricks which have been purchased for the patio areas.

The city council unanimously endorsed the idea Monday night and Mayor Ed Kinney became the first city official to volunteer his time for a two-hour period that weekend.

The complete schedule of which officials will be laying bricks at what times will be published in early June.

Council approved the Park and Recreation Commission recommendation to rename Century Park to "Century House Bicentennial Park" in honor of the iation's 200th birthday.

Her telephone book is teaching aid

"Letting your fingers do the walking" is not the only thing that one can do with a phone book.

Dublin School's Nancy Pollock will speak Saturday to the California Association for Neurologically Handicapped Children (CANHC) on teaching reading and math with low-cost and readily available materials, one of which is the phone book.

Pollock, the Reading Resource teacher at Dublin School, emphasizes that her techniques and ideas can be used with any child, not just the handicapped, and the phone book is one of her most valuable tools with any child

For example, the long distance rates can be turned into math problems, finding names can fix the alphabet firmly in a student's mind and using the yellow pages can teach a child to function in the real world.

And that last goal is important to Pollock. She has embarked on a consumer education program at Dublin School that not only teaches students the basic arithmetical and grammatical skills but also aids them in making decisions on what to buy.

For example , she will take one of the junk mail offerings that offers free giant snails, say, and then make up a "task card" that contains questions concerning the free offer.

The questions force the child to examine exactly what would be required of her to get the "free" giant snail. Obviously, the giant snail is not free and this is the first step in teaching a child to look closely at what she is told.

"It's an attempt to have kids read something they can apply outside school" said the five year veteran of the Murray Elementary School District. "We can teach them to read in a book but most kids don't read outside school."

To help children learn to read, Pollock has developed games and exercises that deal with both visual and auditory learning. Visual learning is the ability to identify objects of a similar and dissimilar nature while auditory learning is the ability to hear something and learn it.

She also teaches extension courses for Cal State Hayward and speaks before groups throughout Northern California on how to help children learn.

One area that could be improved in terms of learning is the home, Pollock believes. "Parents really fall down in their responsibilities to the kids if they don't allow them to be productive members of the family" she commented.

In the early days of America, a child would help gather eggs or milk the cows or any number of necessary and useful chores, but it is very difficult to send a child out to help sell insurance with Daddy.

Pollock suggest having children watch for freeway exits, for example, when they're riding in a car, or have them get certain simple items when they're along on a shopping trip. Such involvement is not only good for the child's ego but also helps him function in the real world.

And in the end, isn't that the goal of all education?

Which overcrossing?

City of Pleasanton has been working with the owners of the Stoneridge Regional Center (vacant parcel, upper left) for over a year in an attempt to finance an overcrossing at Stoneridge Drive (indicated by arrow at top). But now there is a new push by some home owners west of the great 680 divide to provide a second overcrossing. This one (lower arrow) would complete W. Las Positas Boulevard from Foothill to Hopyard, and ultimately on to Santa Rita Road and even Livermore. City council is hoping to move forward immediately on the Stoneridge overcrossing, using assessment district funds, and perhaps start soon also on the Las Positas overcrossing, using Redevelopment District bonds. Both projects are reliant on the planned Stoneridge Regional Center for the basis of that new cash flow. The city has little hope of state financial help. The two overcrossing would be just one under one mile apart.

Cast member Jerry Carlin and Amador drama teacher Adele Denny.

Opening will reflect spirit of Adele Denny

PLEASANTON — When the curtain goes up tonight at the premiere performance of "The Importance of Being Earnest," what valley residents will see is a production that reflects the style and spirit of not only the cast but that of Adele Denny.

An enthusiastic and thorough teacher and director of drama for the past 12 years, Adele Denny has been the guiding spirit behind dozens of productions at Amador Valley High School that have turned students "on" to acting and all other forms of stagecraft.

Her "alumni" would likely form an excellent repertory company, both on stage and back stage.

For a vibrant sample of her current "company," valley residents may stop by the Amador Valley High auditorium any of the next three nights with curtain time at 8:15. Tickets for the production are $1.50 for adults and students without student body cards, and $1 for card holders and children.

"The Importance of Being Earnest" will reprise Friday and Saturday nights on the venerable Santa Rita Road auditorium boards.

Cast members include Jerry Carlin, John Clark, Regina Speceal, Heidi Kulink, Stephanie Smith and Nancy Ales.

As a rule, Mrs. Denny tries to work with a large cast so that a large number of students can get a taste of that special thrill of playing to an audience.

The "alumni" have gone into a wide range of theatrical careers, from Alan Graham, a graduate of a few years ago, who displayed strong interest in sound and is pursuing that "back stage" field at San Jose state. He formerly worked as an announcer and disc jockey at KYTE in Livermore (which is now KQIQ).

There's also Jean Friedman, a '72 graduate, who was involved in the American Conservatory Theatre's summer program, before entering San Jose State. Mike Walsh, a '73 grad, studied mime with a San Francisco group and occasionally comes back to Amador to share his talents with present classes.

Mrs. Denny also recalls the hours and hours of costume direction and work put in by Julie Anglin during her four years at Amador. Julie is also at San Jose State and learning the art of makeup.

Andy Jorgensen, son of the former owners of Jorgensen's Pharmacy downtown, was a Denny student and now teaches at Harvest Park School.

The list is endless and the productions ... usually three each year ... bring special memories flooding back.

Some of the favorites include Wizard of Oz, Our Town, Auntie Mame, Taming of The Shrew, Once Upon A Mattress and Inherit The Wind.

But the special one right now is the one that goes center stage tonight at 8:15.

Fair board appoints 2 members

PLEASANTON - County Fair Association Board of Directors adopted a $3.9 million five-year capital improvements program at their monthly meeting Tuesday.

On a related matter, a vocational and career exposition as proposed by Fairgrounds Manager Lee Hall last month, Hall said it was hoped that Senate Bill 907 would receive approval this week. The bill, which was supposed to be acted on today, would appropriate monies to fairs for just such activities.

Two new board members were seated Tuesday night. In addition to Jeannete Ceremello, a housewife who is active in political affairs in Oakland, the board greeted Arnold Miller of Oakland, Director of Equal Opportunity Employment for the Port of Oakland.

Miller, a black, was appointed by Supervisor Fred Cooper. he succeeds Thomas Berkley, who resigned after a short tenure on the board.

Mrs. Ceremello was appointed by Supervisor Thomas Bates and replaces Rolf Thompson, who also served a brief period on the board before resigning.

Grammar school alums walk memory lane

The theme is "60 - Plus Years." And the "Three R's" urge all former classmates to "Return to Pleasanton — Rejoin former schoolmates — Recollect those school days." But no matter how it is labelled, the Pleasanton Grammar School Reunion must certainly rank as one of the more unique social gatherings on record.

Tracing its origins to the 1890's, Pleasanton Grammar School was destroyed by fire in 1909. The student body was then moved from the two - story hilltop school (a site now occupied by the present - day Pleasanton Elementary School) to stores and scattered throughout the town. It is that memory which "the Grammar School gang" will bring to its Second Annual Reunion, a luncheon affair set for Castlewood Country Club, May 29.

Gus Schneider is among the "70 or more" members of that student body who will participate in the Castlewood gathering. Schneider's particular contribution is his artistry, and these two panels represent his personal reminder "to all you boys and girls who date back to 1915, and prior, to come to the reunion on May 29."

The committee promises "a lively program" including possibly "an open forum of some sort, at which classmates can fire questions at each other, and maybe find out who really has the best memory." Those who attended last year's reunion will testify that their memories are sharp indeed, and so too is the pleasure these "young oldtimers" take in recalling their colorful era.

Livermore Jaycee Wives top in state

The Livermore Jaycee Wives Club was recently recognized as the number one Jaycee auxiliary in the state by the California Jaycees at the recent state convention in Palm Springs.

The Club of the Year Award to the Livermore chapter was based on overall support of the Jaycees, and the chapter was described as "typifying what a Jaycee Wives club is all about."

Linda Byington, president of the Livermore Jaycee Wives, accepted the top honor on the club's behalf. Other club members attending the convention with their husbands were Betty Archer, Karen Brown, Amy Enos, Cindy English, Pam Forsberg, Karen Ivy, Judy Johnson, Sandy Jones, Jean Kerekes, Carolyn Lambert, Carol Nelson, Judy Nelson and Deanna Smith.

This is the second year that the California Jaycees have presented the Club of the Year Award. The Livermore Jaycee Wives Club supports the men's chapter in a variety of projects, including the Halloween "House of Horrors," and the upcoming Livermore Air Show.

Juniorettes recognized

The Snoopy Juniorettes of Dublin will be treated to a pool party Saturday by the Dublin Junior Women's Club in recognition of the teens' outstanding efforts in sponsoring last month's marathon dance to benefit the MuscularDystrophy crusade.

The Snoopy chapter planned the event in three weeks and raised $4,000. The fund-raising experience enabled the group to assist in organizing another dance marathon for MS with Chi Phi Fraternity at Berkeley.

Junior Nadja Witchez will host the appreciation party at her home patio which is, by coincidence, decorated with Snoopy characters.

'Sheep to Shawl' encores

"Sheep to Shawl" will again highlight the annual Art in the Vineyard art show to be sponsored by the Livermore Art Association Sunday, May 25 from noon to 5 p.m.

The public is invited free of charge to the Memorial weekend event at the Concannon Vineyard on Tesla Road in Livermore.

Sheep to Shawl is a demonstration of an early 18th Century process of spinning and weaving fabric from start to finish which originated in Australia. An informal group of spinners and weavers, the Wayside Weavers, will perform this process at the art show wearing old fashioned dresses and hand-woven aprons made from a Swedish pattern.

Carl Hanson of Byron, Calif., will shear the wool from sheep at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. for the weavers to process. After it is washed and sorted, the wool will be put into three simmering dye pots of locally-grown dye stuffs: wild mustard for yellow and orange dye, walnut hulls for brown and beige dye, and onions for gold, orange and green. The wool will turn to very soft muted colors.

Once dry, the wool will be carded and handspun by spinners on their antique wheels and drop spindles, then woven into shawls and tapestry on a floor loom and an apple box loom.

The Wayside Weavers will have baskets of dyed fleece, card samples of dyed yarn, as well as hanks of linen, cotton and silk on display. Hand-woven items and card-weaving kits will be on sale.

The informal art show features a wide variety of fine arts and hand-crafted items for sale. Visitors may also enjoy art-in-action, professional musicians, mime and puppet shows as they sip the select Concannon table wines from the vineyard.

The Wayside weavers have donated a hand-woven pillow, and artist Casey Burley of San Jose has contributed an acrylic air brush painting for a drawing to be held at 4 p.m. at the show. Donation for tickets is 50 cents each or three for $1 to benefit the LAA scholarship fund.

Tickets are available from Chairman Rita Langhorst at 447-2031, or at the LAA Gallery in the Carnegie Building, the Way Up Gallery, and Allied Arts in Livermore.

PAL demo in stained glass art

Ginny Fisher and Shirley Walsh will demonstrate techniques in both simple and advanced stained glass for members and guests of the Pleasanton Art League Monday, May 19 at the Amador Recreation Center on Black Avenue in Pleasanton.

The public is welcome to the 7:30 p.m. presentation.

Having worked in stained and leaded glass art for the past four years, Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Walsh opened their own retail supply store in January at Walnut Creek. They also offer classes at their shop.

The two women accept commissions for their work, and are currently drafting plans for a four by 15-foot window for a Walnut Creek Church, as weil as several stained glass windows for a Mendocino summer home.

One of their recent works is an intricate Tiffany butteryfly window containing 84 pieces of German antique glass on display at their shop, the Glass Factory.

The public is welcome to any PAL demonstrations as a primary purpose of the league is to educate the public in the arts and crafts. For further information, or to join the league, call Kay Keitkamp at 462-5093.

Her work was exhibited at the Bay Tree Weavers Guild booth in the recent weavers' conference at Sacramento.

Thale Struthers of Livermore will conduct the meeting, and Sharon Gardner of Livermore will be among new officers of the guild to be installed. Meetings will resume in September.

The call is issued by the Livermore Cask and Mask Players who have determined to take first place in the Livermore Rodeo Parade in order to help fund a new theater.

The players are looking for about 75 more men to participate in their float conceived as a Cecil B. DeMille spactacular of the Romans capturing a city, with beautiful maidens taken into slavery and 100 men of all ages pulling the wagon."

Participants need only show up June 7 at 8:30 a.m., peel down to bathing trunks, don half a burlap bag around the waist and tie a ten-foot rope around the waist and back to the man behind.

Drama reading

The Cask and Mask players will present a dramatic reading of the play "Double Solitaire" Saturday. May 17 at 1076 El Dorado Way in Livermore.

The public is invited to the admission-free performance at 8:30 p.m., and is advised to come early as seating is limited.

The play is a recent work by playwright Robert Anderson, and concerns love and marriage in contemporary society. Cast in the play are Kay Bloom, Joan Boer, Cliff Donnally, Connie Duke, Bob Freis, Bert Graf and Bob Nelson.

Funds for Art Center

At last week's groundbreaking for the $100,000 Cultural Arts Center, Billie Schmer of the Pleasanton Art League presented a check for $577.64 to Mayor Ed Kinney to help euqip the center. Churchyard faire closes its doors

The Churchyard Faire, a boutique and art shop at Old St. Raymond's Church in Dublin, will close it's doors to allow restoration work on the historical landmark to proceed.

The faire's final days in operation will be May 17 and 18 from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Sponsored by the Livermore-Amador Valley Historical Society, the shop has earned funds for the church restoration project.

The society requests special support of the community in making the landmark ready for public viewing. Anyone interested in helping may contact Bill Apperson at 846-2920 or Ollie Silva at 828-5926.

SETTING THE SCENE

Bill Hayden

Although the idea is not particularly new, I was interested in noting the occasions in the past couple of years when movies have attempted to be more than a story on film; when they have reached out to broaden the intellectual horizon and have become, in a sense, visual novels.

This development came into focus when I caught a couple of older films at the Vine Theatre in Livermore last week. The combination was "SCARECROW" with Al Pacino and Gene Hackman and "DELIVERANCE" with Jon Voight and Burt Reynolds. Both were excessively brutal stories — off-beat commentary on some tragic human conditions — but told with great compassion and in beautiful detail.

In "SCARECROW" the viewer is immediately made conscious of the similarity in theme to "MIDNIGHT COWBOY." The characters would be almost interchangeable; the situations alike except in locale.

The opening sequence in "SCARECROW" might act as an example of what I mean by the literary mood of the film. There is a vast expanse of hillside with a lone figure walking out of an infinity of time and space. The camera is allowed to linger long enough on the scene for the audience to feel the mood; to appreciate the lowering skies that reveal an ominous quality which vaguely telegraphs impending tragedy. The whole sensation is one of having the descriptive words leaping off a printed page into the mind. There is no elaborate introductory music. The ear is allowed to relish the sound of the wind through a tree and the rustling of the dry grass fingered by a gentle breeze.

It is a very elaborate approach to the story of some very basic people; simple and occasionally animalistic in their approach to life. All this is much more than casual character development as we are accustomed to it in day-to-day story-telling. The camera achieves a kind of X-ray quality and reaches beyond the facades of nature; past the cliches of the actor-director relationship and into the very heart of individual motivation which produces an appreciation of inner forces at work even if we cannot understand or analyze them.

There is also a beautiful moment in "DELIVERANCE" when the character played by Jon Voight rises early in the morning to hunt in the forest with bow and arrow. The entire scene is caught in a tight shot of Voight and his reactions to his isolation in nature. When he attempts to shoot a deer and fails miserably in his approach to the target, we are treated to a vivid pictorial essay on man and his relationship to his surroundings, It is profoundly moving without being pompous. Unfortunately, Director John Boorman did not trust his instincts with the scene. In a following sequence he found it necessary to spell out the reaction in dialogue. Perhaps it was a distrust in the quality of his audiences that drove him to the repetition. I would have preferred to have left the moment ambiguous rather than provide a 'translation' for it. The artist has to realize that his audience does not always have to understand something fully to appreciate the beauty or power of the work or statement.

I do not mean to imply that "SCARECROW" and "DELIVERANCE" were a fully satisfying motion picture experience. Many people would happily challenge my sanity if I sent anyone off for a happy theatrical evening with either film. I will say, however, that in many respects both pictures are epic tragedy in the best sense of the words. There is nothing in Shakespeare or Shaw more profound than the battle of the guitar and banjo in "DELIVERANCE" and while the scene is also in the book — and is quite effective on the printed page — it leaps to new dimensions and vitality on the screen.

It is my opinion that these two movies will one day be a part of the "classical" literature of motion pictures. Right now they stir up all kinds of controversy with their social comment and our limited capability to react properly because of its immediacy.

For those who look upon movies as more than casual entertainment, "SCARECROW" and "DELIVERANCE" are a feast — a slim diet indeed for all others.

Opening lead — Q ♥

By Oswald & James Jacoby

MacDuff the best player in Scotland looked over his fine hand. The hour was late and it was a long ride home from Glamis castle. Still, he felt that it would be cowardly not to bid a slam with that rock-crusher even though MacBeth, his host, who sat North, couldn't have much of a hand.

When he saw the dummy he decided to play as safely for his contract as possible so he won the heart lead in dummy; drew trumps with four leads and led a low diamond.

West took his singleton king and shifted to a spade, which MacDuff ruffed. Now he led a diamond to dummy's 10; returned to his hand with the ace of hearts and won the last four tricks with his good diamonds.

MacDuff's play is worthy of study. He had guarded against everything except 5-0 breaks and it was well that he had. However, his brilliant play didn't get him home.

MacBeth the Thane of Glamis and of Cawdor and soon to be King of Scotland refused to quit.

He cried, "Play on MacDuff for one more rubber."

SIDE GLANCES

Fans spark Priewe to 440 victory

"I heard people at the top of the turn saying, 'Come on Tim, catch him, catch him!'

"But I just said, 'No way is he going to get me."

Matt Priewe's running dialog with Tim O'Donnell's well-wishers was added inspiration for his featured 440 showdown with O'Donnell , Rich Sessions and Bob Gregor.

Priewe, ahead by five yards coming out of the tu ntined his lead down the stretch for a 50.5 victory in the final of the quarter mile at the EBAL track and field championships last night at Amador Valley High School.

Going into the final turn, O'Donnell, a running one lane inside Priewe, made a bid for the lead. He drew to within three yards, but faded coming out of the bend and finished second in 51.1.

San Ramon took advantage of poor passing by Granada to surge into an early lead in the 440 relay. The Wolves won in 44.7, as Livermore's Sessions closed fast to anchor his team to a 44.8 second place finish. Amador Valley was ohird in 45.1.

San Ramon's Paul Swenson covered the second 440 in 59.0, overtaking Granada's Ken Dumster and Monte Vista's Steve Pollard, to win the 880. Swenson was clocked in 2:01.5, with Dumster second in 2:03.2 and Pollard third in 2:04.2.

The varsity 100-yard dash went to Sessions, who had to overcome an explosive 75-yard burst by San Ramon's Dennis Hensen. Sessions was awarded 10.0, but Hensen, only inches off the tape, was given 10.1. Inexplicably, Gregor received the same time for finishing a stride behind Hensen.

Rich Brunner popped 49-3¼ to top Amador's Bruce Bynum for the shot put championship. Bynum best was a toss of 46-6 3/4.

Sessions closed on the two San Ramon runners as they moved toward the tape, but his 51.2 failed to catch O'Donnell.

Bob Gregor of Monte Vista, after running well for the first 220, yielded to Amador's Chuck Tockey (52.1) and finished fifth (52.2).

Scott Campbell of Granada spotted Jerry Rascano a one-step lead over the first of the race, then overtook the San Ramon runner at the sixth hurdle to and went on to win the 330 yard lows in 40.2. Rascano was right behind in 40.3, followed by Amador's John Beatty in 41.0.

Rascano got out well again in the 120 yard highs, but was headed by Granada'a Rich Guttierez at the half way point and dropped a close race to the Matador hurdler, 14.7-14.8.

Earlier Brunner fell just short of teamate Mike Bowles, as San Ramon went one-two in the varsity discus. Bowles spun 142-0 to Brunner's 141-3, with Bynum third at 140-11.

The varsity mile was won by Livermore's Brett Hazen in 4:35.5, with Dublin's Bill Johnson finishing well back in 4:39.1.

Scott Kosco of Granada took the frosh-soph "B" mile, eclipsing Hazen's meet record of 4:37.3 with a fine 4:35.4 clocking.

Jim Boulware of Dublin powered the Gaels' frosh-soph "B" 440 relay quartet to a nifty 44.8 first place finish, smashing the meet record of 45.3 set in 1970 by Albany.

Andy Finn cleared 6-4 to win the varsity high jump .

Sessions completed a sweep of the short dashes, winning the 220 in 23.0. Gregor came second in 23.3, with Hensen next in 23.8. Monte Vista's Bill Fowler ran 24.0 for fourth.

Though complaining of the cold and wind, Roy Kissin of San Ramon , ran his best two mile of the season, in 9:03.6, solo flight. The remainder of the field was led by Dublin's Dan arvey, second in 9:37. Livermore's Boyd Tarin was third in 9:39, well ahead of Monte Vista's Dave Tatino, fourth in 9:58.9. Marty James of San Ramon pushed Tatino with a 9:59.2.

San Ramon's mile relay team had an easy time, breezing a 3:28.2 to defeat Amador Valley and Granada, which were second and third in 3:36.1 and 3:36.2.

Danville athletes took the first three places in the long jump, as Monte Vista's Joe Tliemat sailed 21-6 for firso place. Stan Benedict of San Ramon edged MV's Fowler, 21-2 to 21-1 1/2.

Kris Hollmer's 12-0 was enough to win the varsity pole vault.

Fritz Venker of San Ramon, coming off a 524 top qualifying time, ran 52.9 to win the frosh-soph "B" 440. Livermore's Ken Fordyce was runner-up, timed in 53.7.

The Amador Valley High School junior, number one man for the Dons most of this season, fired a three-over par 73 at Tilden Golf Course for a one-stroke victory over San Ramon's Mike Mattoch.

Stevenson, and the next two finishers after Mattoch, Chris Cantalini and Bob Marten, ... the North Coast Golf Tournament Monday at Rhonert Park Golf Course in Cotati.

Mattoch's San Ramon team also advances by virtue of having won the EBAL's dual meet championship.

Cantalini of Dublin, and Monte Vista's Marten, qualified as the second and third place finishers from non-championship teams with five-over 75's.

This will be Stevenson's first trip to the North Coast Tournament, though he came close once. That was the memory Jack bristled over yesterday, even after winning the EBAL title.

Stevenson lost out in a playoff for the final qualifying spot at last year's EBAL tournament. He was defeated on the sixth hole of sudden-death by Neil Ward of San Ramon.

Ironically, Stevenson was paired with Ward yesterday .

"I was really mad after that last year," Stevenson said with a hint of a smile. I'll never forget it. I broke my putter on a tree, and the newspaper said I hit an innocent bystanding tree. Everybody gave me a bad time about it and that made me madder.

"Ever since then I've wanted to beat Neil every time we play. But I didn't want a playoff today."

Stevenson birdied four holes en route to his 73, and suffered only one real breakdown, a double-bogey on the par four 12th hole. He pulled his drive into the woods, sailed over the green with his second shot, then three putted after chipping on.

Stevenson won the tournament with a birdie putt on the par-three 16th hole that almost required air mail postage. Distance estimates ranged from 60 to 80 feet Regardless, that much frontage on Carmel Bay would make Stevenson a rich young man.

"I really whacked it hard because I was just trying to get within 10 feet," Stevenson said. "I couldn't believe my eyes when it went in."

Mattoch, plagued by the unholy trinity, the three putt, blew his chance to win on the 17th hole with a bogey five.

Mike hit two bordering fairways in his wobbly trek to the green, then suffered one of numerous putting failures.

"I hit the ball well on the third through 13th holes," Mattoch said. "But I had a bogey after that and by then I knew somebody would come in ahead of me. So I wasn't too worried on the 17th because our team is going to North Coast anyway."

Cantalini had an excellent chance to catch Stevenson, but wilted right around the turn. He dropped four quick strokes on the ninth and 10th holes.

Chris stubbed a pitch shot on the par-four ninth hole and wound up with a bogey. Disaster struck at the 10th when he staggered in with a triple-bogey seven.

Cantalini's second shot cleared the green, and lodged behind some fallen timber. He wasted two shots attempting to axe his way out.

"I was going right for the stick on that second shot," Cantalini said; "but I had a side hill lie and I should have played for the right side of the green. The ball kicks down to the flag there anyway. I just found that out too late."

Cantalini and Marten spent much of the blustery Berkeley afternoon viewing assaults on their tenuous positions. At least four other golfers charged for the final North Coast qualifying spots behind winner Stevenson. All faltered, however.

It was Ward's turn this year to fall just short of the North Coast goal. He checked in with a six-over par 76, as did Livermore's Jeff Smith.

Greg Mona of Amador, and Monte Vista's Tom Straeter shot 77's, and Harold Zosel of Amador had a 78.

Randy Peterson, Amador, John Wilkens of Monte Vista, and Livermore's Mark Voelker were lumped in a group at 79.

Warriors keep on

OAKLAND - Rick Barry, who made just two of his first 15 shots, fired in 14 points for Golden State in the final period last night to lead the Warriors to a 83-79 victory over the Chicago Bulls in the seventh and deciding game of the National Basketball Association's Western Conference championship.

The Warriors battled from 14 points behind to record the victory which earned them a shot at the Eastern champion Washington Bullets in the NBA championship series which begins Sunday at Landover, Md.

Rookie forward Keith Eilkes carried the scoring load for Golden State the first three quarters, and his basket with 2:57 left in the game put the Warriors ahead to stay, 75-73. The basket came on a fast break after guard Charles Johnson stole the ball from the Bulls' Chet Walker.

Wilkes finished with 23 points, with 21 of them coming in the second and third periods. Barry scored 22.

Barry was benched late in the third quarter, came back with 9:30 left to play and made three consecutive shots as the Warriors surged from behind to tie the score at 67-67 with 7:28 to go.

Barry had scored 36 points in Chicago last Sunday when the Warriors won 86-72 to even the best-of-seven series at 3-3.

Havlik, Nichols lead Arrow win

John Havlik drove in two runs for Arrow Rentals Tuesday night in his team's 3-0 Granada farm league win over Amador Styling.

Jeff Nichols blasted a triple for the winners.

Jamison Printing edged Astro Rentals, 2-1, on 11 base hits. David Landrum fetched one run with a single. Kevin Swafford doubled. Astro's David Meranda also doubled.

Granada Chevron belted Red Carpet Realty, 11-5, scoring six times in the fifth inning. Joe Novatny drove in two runs. Garett Murphy and Scott Birondo produced runs for the losers.

Auto Plus beat Paul Marsh Shell, 13-8. Jim Herbert and Jeff March crashed home runs. Mike Riffee and Dan Duncan homered for Marsh.

Pleasanton National

Harold Bauer launched a three-run home run in the fourth inning to give Pleasanton Garbage a 9-0 lead, and it proved to be vital in a 9-6 Pleasanton American senior league victory over Allied Brokers Tuesday.

Bauer drove in four runs for the Dodgers, and went 4-for-4 at the plate. Teammate Rob Santos went 3-for-3 with two RBI's.

Robin Dijos pitched well in relief for the winners.

The Braves' Mike Harris singled twice, and drove in a run.

Mike Mallon was the winning pitcher.

Livermore American

Dave Brown's six-hit pitching carried Straw Hat Pizza to an 11-8 Livermore American major league victory over Industrial Railways.

Steve Baxter and Rick Holmes each had two-run singles for Straw Hat.

Bob Terhune of the Railway men had a double.

The A's belted the Geldertowners in the senior league, 8-4. Vito Ferruli, Rick Finkes and Dan Thompson held the losers to two base hits. Ferruli tripled home one run.

Ng doubtful for EBAL track championships

The year's most stunning competitor is a likely no-show, but the race will go on today in the EBAL girls track and field championships at Amador Valley High.

Paula Ng, the Livermore High freshman sensation who has shattered school and meet records in a myriad of events, is highly doubtful for the meet. She has been sidelined recently by a badly twisted ankle.

There are still top competitors left in the field however, including Granada High runner Dianna Stohr, and shot putter Cheryl Common. San Ramon's Lisa Bee will be a threat in the discus, and Kirsti Kyle of Amador will be a factor in the 880.

Besides shooting for league titles in individual events, the girls are seeking berths in the North Coast championships, the final step to California's State Track and Field Championships.

Wooten, Merrill head south

Monte Vista High's Bart Wooten and Casey Merrill will join 11 other top California high school wrestlers for a six-week tour of New Zealand, beginning June 25.

They will be accompanied by Monte Vista coach Randy Knudson, who will share coaching duties with Oakland High's Bill Grant. The schedule calls for 15 to 20 dual meets with the Kiwi wrestlers.

The junket begins in Auckland and moves south. "We'll be giving clinics everywhere we go, in addition to the competitions," says Knudson. "They've only been wrestling there for five or six years."

Freestyle wrestling (Wooten's favorite, according to Knudson) will be used exclusively on the tour. "Casey hasn't wrestled too much with it," said Knudson, "so we've got some work to do."

Wooten will compete in the 154-pound class, while Merrill will wrestle 192's and heavyweight. The coach pointed out that a two-kilogram leeway has been added, which means that the Mustang wrestlers may check in as high as 158.4 and 196.4 pounds.

"The two extra kilos are allowed because of the traveling," says Knudson. "And the legal age for beer drinking there is 16, so they're excited about that."

Expenses for the tour, which returns in August, are still in question, though meals, accommodations and transportation in New Zealand are in order. The main problem now, Knudson says, is coming up with the $626 per man round trip airfare from California to Auckland.

Seniors' tax break forms going out

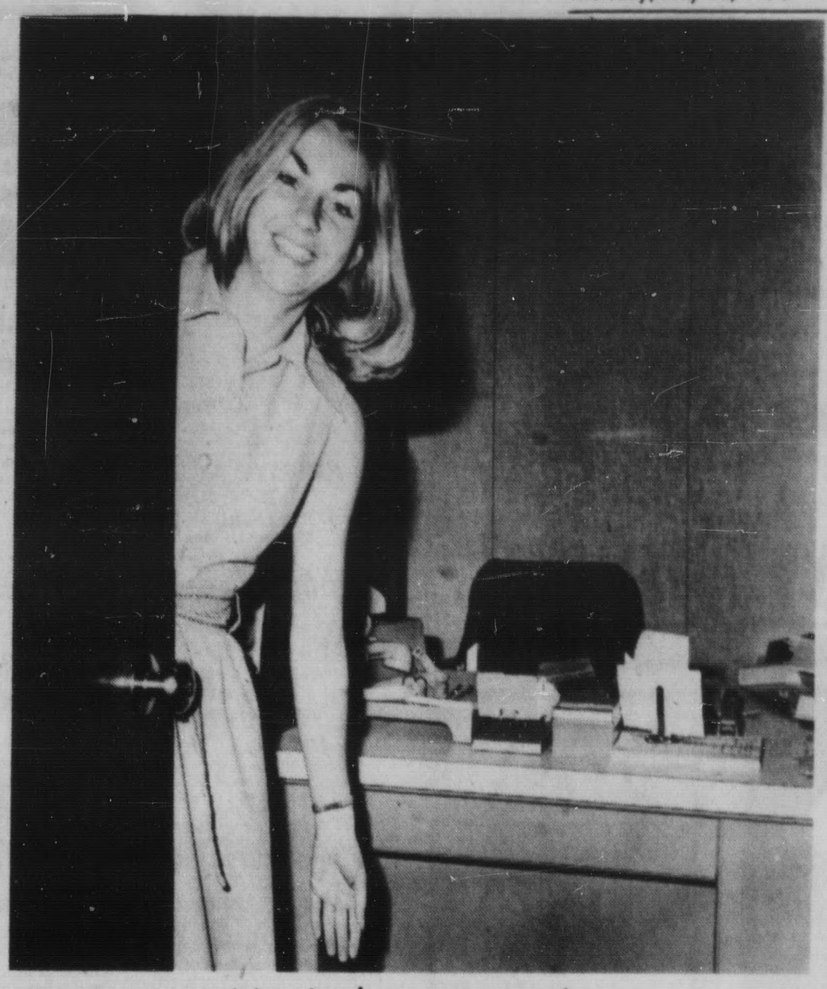
Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance claim forms for 1975 are being mailed now, according to Assemblyman S. Floyd Mori.

Almost 310,000 Californians over 62 years who received property tax assistance payments last year, and individuals who already have requested claim forms, will receive them through the mail, Mori said.

The program provides property tax relief to elderly homeowners who have limited income. Filing season begins on May 16, 1975 and ends on Sept. 2, 1975.

To qualify, an individual must be 62 years or older as of Jan. 1, 1975, and must be a California resident on that date. In addition, he must own and occupy his home from July 1, 1974, through June 30, 1975, and have a total household income for 1974 of not more then $10,000.

There have been several significant changes in the law this year. Claim forms and instructions may be obtained by writing to Assemblyman Mori at 1811 Santa Rita Road, Suite 228, Pleasanton, CA 94566, telephone 462-1822.



Mori plans reception

Assemblyman Floyd Mori will hold a public reception from 4 to 7 p.m. Friday at his valley office, 1811 Santa Rita Road, Suite 228, in Pleasanton (462-1822). Punch and refreshments will be served at the office, which is staffed by Karen Kinney (shown above). Mori said he is looking forward to meeting as many constituents as possible" during the informal gathering. Mori's Hayward office is currently located at 22734 Main St., but after June 1, will move to 225 West Winton Ave., Suite 117, Hayward (538-5533). That office is staffed by Mori's administrative assistant Alton Jelks.

GHS parents meeting tonight

LIVERMORE — The last Granada High parents' communications night of this school year will be held at 7:30 tonight in the school library.

Parents who need general information on building plans, status of the curriculum including School Within a School, or student activities, are invited to attend.

Pictures of old residents sought

W.H. Twissellmann of Livermore is trying to locate pictures of five valley residents for historical purposes.

The five — C.M. Dougherty, W.M. Dogal, Frank Fowler, Dr. G.H. McGill and Frank Curzon — all lived around the turn of the century.

Twissellmann wishes only to borrow the pictures briefly. If pictures of the five early residents are in existence, Twissellmann can be reached at 447-0288.

Democratic Club to meet Thursday

The meeting, which is open to any registered Democrat, will see the election of new officers and the setting of a new monthly meeting date.

Fair premium books mailed this week

PLEASANTON — Premium books will start being mailed this week to some 4,000 exhibitors expected to show off their skills, wares and livestock when the Alameda County Fair opens its gates for the 63rd year June 29 through July 13.

Premiums (awards or prizes) will reach a record high this year, with a total of $102,000 being offered. At last year's fair, there was $70,533 actually awarded, although the fair had offered more than $91,000 in prizes.

The premium books spell out the various classes of entry, amount of premiums in each class, rules for exhibiting, etc., as well as closing dates for entries. Would-be participants who have not received their information forms by May 30 should contact Karen Sweet at the County Fair, 846-2881 or 537-4797.

Closing dates for exhibition entries are; Industria! Arts, June 2; Senior Livestock, June 4; Future Farmers, June 5; Floriculture and Home Arts, June 6; 4-H, June 9; Fine Arts and Photography, June 10; Poultry, June 15; Minerals and Gems, June 16.

The number of commercial exhibitors is expected to be larger this year, with about 220 separate displays compared with 220 in 1974.

Continuing their policy of bringing the finest in professional entertainment to Pleasanton, the fair has booked the Johnny Mann Singers, famed impressionist Frank Gorshin, the amazing exponent of ESP, Gil Eagles, Guy and Raina of the Lawrence Welk Show, comedians Skiles and Henderson, and Emmy-Award-winning western fiddler Billy Armstrong to headline the acts in the 3,000-seat amphitheatre.

Once again, admission fees to the fairgrounds will include free entrance to all professional shows in the amphitheatre. Last year, more than 60,000 people attended the amphitheatre shows.

ME & MY FISHY CHICKENS HAVE MOVED
Hi, I'm Andy Puyans, the world's foremost chicken-feather fancier. I hunt all over the world to find the neatest, sweetest feathers & other yummies for the world's fussiest flyfisherfolks to tie fishflies from. But some of my hot chickens caught fire a while back, and darned if my place in Pacheco, California didn't go up in smoke.
But fear not, fishfolks! Along with my fishy partner, Dave Inks, I've opened a new, lots bigger and 32% fishier place out here in Creek of the Walnuts. (You should be here when the walnuts start spawning in the fall.) And we're replacing our barbecued inventories just as fast as we possibly can, so we can honestly claim to offer the nation's biggest and goodest supplies of everything you need to make fancy fish foolers from.
Besides our feathers, furs & all kinds of tail (buck, skwirl etc) we're proud to offer Full Fisherfolks Service. That means we can fix you up with rods, reels, waders — absolutely everything a flyfisher needs, including advice, hot tips and heartfelt sympathy when you come back fishless. OUR MOTTO: if we don't have it, you don't want it. Mail orders filled with dispatch & T.L.C., our prices are competitive & then some.
Inquiries from dealers & commercial tyers welcome indeed.
